

What's New

This coming summer, we're expanding to 7 weeks of camp. The new week is a four-day camp for ages 6 - 9 and is our first overnight summer session (July 2nd - July 5th). The age groups remain in the same order following week 1. This means our short week for ages 5 - 7 is now our Week 4 session (July 22nd - July 24th). The final change you should be aware of is that Teen Week for ages 13 - 15 is now the last week of August (25th - 30th). For a complete list of details, please check our website.

Please mark your calendar; registration will open on December 4th, 2023, for our overnight and day camps. Registration for our Family Camps will open on December 11th, 2023.

Resources for Parents

Practicing gratitude can benefit kids' mental health

"Based on positive psychology research, practicing gratitude can actually increase how often someone experiences desirable emotions such as happiness, pride and contentment. It can also decrease more challenging emotions such as anxiety and depression." View Full Article
